Provided that the compound or mixture when subjected to the treatment prescribed in sub-rule (3) yields to an aqueous solution of hydrochloric acid a quantity of soluble lead compound exceeding, when calculated as lead monoxide, five per cent of the dry weight of the portion taken for analysis.

(2) In the case of paints and similar products and other mixtures containing oil or fat the "dry weight" means the dry weight of the material remaining after the substance has been thoroughly mixed and treated with suitable solvents to remove oil, fats, varnish or other media, and the treatment referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be applied to the material so remaining.

(3) The treatment referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be as follows :—

A weighed quantity of the material which has been dried at 100°C. and thoroughly mixed shall be continuously shaken for one hour, at the common temperature, with 1,000 times its weight of an aqueous solution of hydrochloric acid containing, 0·25 per cent by weight of hydrogen chloride. This solution shall thereafter be allowed to stand for one hour and then filtered. The lead salt contained in the clear filtrate shall then be precipitated as lead sulphide and weighed as lead sulphate.

4. Sampling.—When an Inspector suspects that any substances used or intended for use in any factory contains a lead compound he may at any time take for analysis sufficient samples of that substances:

(2) Every person employed shall be medically examined by a certifying surgeon at intervals of not more than six months, and a record of such examinations shall be entered in the Form appended to these rules.

(3) If at any time the certifying surgeon is of opinion that any person is no longer fit for employment in any of the operations specified in the Schedule, he shall cancel the special certificate of fitness of that person.

(4) No person whose special certificate of fitness has been cancelled shall be employed in any of the operations specified in the Schedule unless the certifying surgeon again certifies him to be fit.

7 Exhaust draughts.—Where gas, dust or fume is produced in any of the operations specified in the Schedule, provision shall be made for drawing the gas, dust or fume away from every such person by means of an efficient exhaust draught so contrived as to operate on the gas, dust or fume as closely as possible to the point of origin:

Provided that where the provision of an efficient exhaust draught is not reasonably practicable respirators of a type approved by the Inspector shall be provided by the occupier and worn by every person working under such conditions.

12 Tools and apparatus.—All tools and apparatus used in any operation specified in the Schedule shall be kept clean.

13. Exemption of cranes in certain cases.—If it appears to the Chief Inspector of Factories that owing to the casual nature of any operations specified in Head (3) of the Schedule, the application of any provisions of these rules is not necessary for safeguarding the health of persons employed on these operations, he may grant exemption from such provisions to such extent and on such conditions as he may deem fit.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914, was framed to suit conditions prevailing at a very early stage in the development of motor transport in India. The rapid growth of that form of transport in twenty-two years makes it necessary to empower local authorities to exercise a closer control than the present Act permits in the interests alike of the development of a co-ordinated policy of roads and railways, and of the safety and convenience of the public.

The question of the co-ordination of road and railway, the elimination of wasteful and uneconomic competition between the two forms of transport and the methods by which these objects can be secured consistently with the public interest, has engaged the attention of the Government of India for some years past. In 1932-33, Messrs Mitchell and Kirkness carried out, at the instance of the Government of India, an enquiry into these problems and their report which was published in January 1933, emphasised the importance of early action. The Road-Rail Conference convened by the Government of India in April 1933 passed a resolution, inter alia, recommending control of public service and goods motor transport in the interests of public safety and convenience, and restriction of vehicles to prevent wasteful competition. Thereafter, in January 1935, the Transport Advisory Council, at its first meeting, made definite recommendations to the same effect. Amendments to the Act were drafted to give effect to the recommendations as far as possible and Local Governments were consulted. The latter were, on the whole in favour of legislation but, there were differences on points of detail. It is generally recognised that it will be necessary, before long, to undertake a general revision of the Act, but the Government of India consider that it is essential in the meantime to give powers to Local Governments to regulate transport motor vehicles, as well as trailers and other attachments, and to enforce where necessary regional and route control as recommended by the Transport Advisory Council. The Government of the United Provinces have already enacted a similar measure. The Bill now presented is the outcome of the discussions referred to and represents the final recommendations of the Transport Advisory Council at its last meeting in July 1936.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 1 (1).—In order to avoid possible complications on the coming into force of the Government of India Act, 1935, it is proposed that the amendments take effect forthwith. Clause 7 ensures that there will be no embarrassment to Local Governments

Clause 1 (2).—Since the local legislature of the United Provinces have recently passed an Act much on the lines of the Bill, it is proposed to exclude that Province from the immediate scope of the Bill, but provide that the Local Government may, by notification in the local Gazette, extend the amended Act to the United Provinces.

Clause 2 (a).—The widening of the definition of "motor vehicle" is intended to bring trailers and other attachments as such within the scope of the provisions of Part III of the 1914 Act. Suitable exemptions can be allowed under section 13 if Local Governments consider it unnecessary to require the registration of light trailers or other attachments.

Clause 2 (b).—The term "transport motor vehicle" has been used in preference to the more familiar "public service motor vehicle" or "public motor vehicle" as less likely to cause confusion with the British Acts and existing provincial rules. The term has been very widely defined so as to include not only vehicles used for the carriage for hire or reward of passenger or goods or both but vehicles adapted for such use. This must be borne in mind in considering the suitability of the provisions which follow

Clause 3.—Proposed new section 10 A.—(1) This sub-clause as drafted gives Local Governments very wide discretion as to the authorities to be appointed the powers to be exercised by those authorities, and the classes of public transport motor vehicles to be controlled. In the opinion of the Government of India it is desirable to empower Local Governments to constitute, in each province, a provincial authority with power to supervise and co-ordinate, and "area" authorities exercising jurisdiction within specified areas.

(2) This sub-clause introduces no new principle, as motor vehicles which are let or plied for hire are already subject to special regulation. The word 'countersigned" has been preferred to "endorsed", in view of the special meaning attached to endorsements in section 16.

Proposed new section 10 B.—(a) This confers power to limit the number of public transport motor vehicles of any specified class to be used in any area or on any specified route. The absence of this power is one of the main defects in the Act as it now stands

(b) "Road Service Permits" may be granted for an area or a route and not only for individual vehicles but for "services" or "fleets", e.g., an owner employing ten vehicles of which not more than 8 are in use at any one time would be able to obtain a permit covering the simultaneous use of eight vehicles of a stated capacity.

(c) It will be seen that power is given to fix the limits of the rates to be charged for goods. It is obviously desirable that the transport authority or other prescribed authority should have such power

(d) The power to cancel or suspend is dealt with in clause 6

Clause 4.—(a) Provision for inspection is clearly needed. Vehicles found on inspection to be unfit for use can be dealt with under rules made under section 11 (2) (c)

(b) In view of new sections 10B and 11A, section 31 (2) (c) is no longer required and it is proposed to repeal it subject to the safeguard provided in clause 7.

(c) Unauthorised bus-stands have been found to be a source of confusion and have interfered with proper traffic regulation.

(c) It is considered that existing clauses (e), (h) and (i) of section 11 (2) are possibly insufficient to enable Local Governments to make rules regulating the classes of motor vehicles which may be used in specified areas or on specified routes, or where necessary prohibiting altogether the use of specified classes of motor vehicle.

(d) The first Transport Advisory Council which met in January 1953, recommended that provision should be made for insurance against passenger and third party risks, and the importance of having such a provision has been brought to notice in connection with several road accidents in recent months.

Clause 5.—The new section 11A confers rule-making powers on Local Governments with special reference to transport motor vehicles, transport authorities and road service permits which will enable them to carry out the recommendations of the Transport Advisory Council.

Clause 6.—Local Governments are given full discretionary powers to cancel or suspend road service permit and to make disqualifications; transport authorities are given power to cancel or suspend road service permits issued by them and other prescribed authorities the power to suspend road service permits.

Clause 7 is intended to remove any doubts that might exist as to the rules now in force.

* Average not available.

† Average of 10 years ending 1915.

NOTE.—The prices are the averages for each district of the retail prices at the several price-recording stations recorded either at the market or market day or if there is no market, on Friday at the bunnia shop in the station. The prices relate to the kind of rice (or other grains) most commonly consumed—paid by the person who is buying it for consumption.
